

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

When does it start? Summer Reading officially starts on June 3rd.

When does it end? Summer Reading ends on August 5th. All books must be logged online by midnight on 8/5 or paper logs turned in by the time the library closes.

How does it work? Write down the books that you read to the children as a group. When you finish 10 books, every child will receive a prize!

Can I log the books online? Yes! Go to srp.jplibrary.net, register under Camps/Daycares, then log your books online.

Do I have to register and log books online? No! You can just register your group with the Youth Outreach Librarian (see below) and use this paper log to keep track of your books!

How do I collect the prizes? You can collect them at the library nearest you or have them delivered to your group. Contact your Youth Outreach Librarian to determine which option is best for you!

Can our group come to programs in the Library? The Library welcomes camps and daycares at our programs, but due to space constraints, we do require that you contact the branch to ensure that space is available. Special storytimes and tours can also be arranged for your group!

Youth Outreach Librarians:

East Bank: Andrea Heingarten
(aheingarten@jplibrary.net)

West Bank: Kim Meyer (kmeyer@jplibrary.net)
Both can be reached at 849-8813

Contact the Youth Outreach Librarians to register for summer reading or to arrange for prizes. They would also be happy to bring a storytime to your group or to talk to them about the summer reading program!
